MAXIMIZING CONSTITUENT ENGAGEMENT ACROSS COMMUNITY COLLEGES
Two-year institutions serve nearly half of all undergraduate students in the United States. Learners are interested in workforce development and skills training, professional certificates, and preparation for transfer to four-year institutions.

Do you know if you are effectively identifying and engaging with these constituents in your community?

Evolving Student Needs

Students in your community bring a wide range of academic, vocational, and professional goals to your institution, so your programs and communications strategies need to be as diverse as your constituency. With CampusNexus® CRM, you gain greater visibility into your constituents’ unique needs and are able to engage applicants, students, and graduates with highly personalized information through their preferred media and devices. You now have an effective communications platform for achieving your recruitment, retention, and advancement goals.
